1. Background

a. Company History

The National Credit Act on the 1st of June 2007. This was done to promote an effective, accessible and fair credit market to protect the consumer from reckless lending and over-indebtedness, as was the case prior to the inception of the NCA.

The Act introduced registered and regulated debt counsellors who have the expertise to assist and guide consumers experiencing debt problems. Furthermore they can devise debt restructuring plans, enabling the consumer to manage their monthly debt obligations more effectively.

Although our company were registered in 2011, we were involved with debt review, in various aspects since 2009.

b. What we do

Debt counselling is the ideal solution for the consumer in dire financial situations or think that they will not be able to pay all their debt in the near future. Debt included in the process is credit cards, store accounts, personal loans, overdrafts, hire purchases, vehicle instalment agreements and bonds (home loans).

We can assist the consumer by calculating an affordable monthly budget and thereby restoring the consumers control over their financial well-being. Our registered debt counselors will be able to assist with all questions.
